1. SUMMARY

I am a consultant neuropsychologist, with undergraduate (First Class Hons) and post-graduate degrees in Psychology. I have worked as Head of Neuropsychology at the Wessex Neurological Centre in Southampton, and at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge. I am visiting Professor of Neuropsychology at University College London, where I both teach and supervise post-graduate students. I am in active clinical practice, and in addition to my private and medicolegal practice, I have the following further positions –

- I am honorary consultant neuropsychologist at Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust, and take part in the multidisciplinary team meetings of one of the leading traumatic brain injury clinics in the country, run by Professor David Sharp at St Mary's Hospital.
- I carry out locum work in other settings, and in 2018-21 I was locum consultant neuropsychologist at an Elysium neurological services facility at Badby Park, near Northampton, at the Brain Injury Rehabilitation Trust, and at the Sussex Neurosciences Centre at Haywards Heath. The Elysium facility is a 65-bedded rehabilitation unit, with three wards, one for acquired brain injury, one for dementia, and one for prolonged disorders of consciousness.

I am a member of the Specialist Register for Clinical Neuropsychology held by the British Psychological Society, and am also on the expert witness directory of that society. I have over 40 years' experience in clinical neuropsychology, having seen a wide range of neurological and neuropsychiatric conditions. I started off my career with experience of penetrating missile brain injury patients (gunshot and bomb blast) in Belfast, spent a post-doctoral on a mental health research fellowship in a leading USA neuropsychology centre in Boston, USA, and have worked in various UK centres, including the Maudsley Hospital and the Wolfson Rehabilitation Centre. When in Cambridge, I collaborated with Microsoft's Research Lab there to pioneer the world's first camera-based autobiographical memory aid. I set up the first memory aids clinic while in Cambridge, later co-supervising a PhD on the benefits of such a clinic. I have developed a widely-used test of cognitive effort (the 'coin-in-the-hand' test), and with a colleague I have developed innovative SmartPapers – decision guides for clinical neuropsychology practice, which are widely used in the UK and internationally. I am past-President and a founder member of the British Neuropsychological Society. I have received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the British Psychological Society, and I am a fellow of that society. I am a member of the Confidential Reporting Systems for Surgery (CORESS) committee which meets at the Royal College of Surgeons to discuss and learn lessons from surgical safety incidents – I am the Psychology / Human Factors advisor to that committee. I am the lead author of two papers arising from the work of that committee. I have published around 150 journal articles and book chapters, and have authored or edited five books, most of these being in the field of Clinical Neuropsychology.

3. ACADEMIC AND PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS / AWARDS / HONOURS

School Education Northern Ireland

Undergraduate & Post-Graduate Education

1967-71: Undergraduate student,
Queen's University, Belfast.
B.A. (First Class Hons) in
Psychology awarded in 1971

1971-72: Postgraduate student,
University of Reading

1972-74: Postgraduate student,
Queen's University, Belfast.
Degree of Ph.D. awarded in 1974.
Doctoral thesis: "Effects of recall
tests on memory"

1982: British Psychological
Society Diploma in Clinical Psychology

Awards / Honours

1968	Foundation Scholarship, Queen's University of Belfast
1974	Travelling Research Fellowship, Mental Health Trust and Research Fund
1995–2000	On several occasions, won cash prizes in Staff Suggestion Award Scheme whilst employed at Southampton General Hospital, and I donated my prizes to the hospital League of Friends
2005	Runners-up, Medical Futures Competition sponsored by Dept of Health/MRC. Entry = Cambridge Memory Aids Clinic
2007 –	Elected as Fellow, British Psychological Society
2007 –	Patron, Road Safety Charity RoadPeace
2007–10	Elected to Executive Committee, Division of Neuropsychology of the British Psychological Society
2008–10	President, British Neuropsychological Society
2009	Cash Prize in Addenbrooke's Staff Suggestion Award Scheme, and I donated my prize to Addenbrooke's Abroad, which supports health care in developing countries
2010	'Highly Commended Award' for 2009 article, On The Pursuit of Clinical Excellence , by Literati Network of Emerald Publishing Group
2010	Guest Lecture, Annual Convention of International Medical Sciences Academy, Royal Society of Medicine, London. September 2010.
2011	Invited to give Keynote address to annual meeting of the Australian Association of Neuropsychologists, Sydney, November 2011
2011	Invited to give Keynote lecture to first National Neuropsychology meeting to be held in India, Bangalore, November 2011
2011	Elected as Rotarian (Member of Rotary Clubs of Great Britain)
2012	Runners-up prize, American Medical Writers Association Annual Award (for The Paradoxical Brain)
2017	2016 Lifetime Achievement Award, British Psychological Society

4. MEMBERSHIP OF SOCIETIES AND ADVISORY ROLES

Membership of Societies

International Neuropsychological Society

British Psychological Society (BPS)

(Chartered Psychologist)

(Honorary Secretary, Neuropsychological Interest Group of BPS, 1987-1988)

(Practitioner Full Member, BPS)

Division of Neuropsychology. Member of Executive Committee of the Division of Neuropsychology, 2008-)

American Psychological Association

Experimental Psychology Society

British Neuropsychiatric Association

British Neuropsychological Society,

(Acting Hon. Secretary 1988-90,

Co-ordinator of Steering Committee set up to found society. President and Member, Executive Committee, 2008-2010)

Memory Disorders Research Society,

(Member of Membership Committee,

Organizer of First European Meeting at King's College, Cambridge, 1995)

Advisory Roles

Member, Editorial Board, Acta

Neurologica Scandinavica, 1990-1996

Member, Executive Committee of British

Neuropsychological Society, 1989-1991

Member, Wessex Regional Psychology

Advisory Committee (1981-1988)

Member, Dept of Health National Assessors List for Neuropsychology, 1991-1997

Programme Organizing Committee,

International Neuropsychological Society

Meetings, 1988, 1992, 1994

Referee roles for a number of journals including -

Brain, British Medical Journal, Journal of

Neurology, Neurosurgery & Psychiatry,

British Journal of Psychology, Biological

Psychology, Cortex, Neuropsychological

Rehabilitation, Journal of Clinical &

Experimental Neuropsychology, Quarterly

Journal of Experimental Psychology, British

Journal of Clinical Psychology, Journal of the International Neuropsychological

Society, NeuroCase, Behavioural Neurology

Manuscript preview roles for three books -
 Richardson, JTE (1990) Closed Head Injury.
 Taylor & Francis; Parkin, A & Leng, N. (1993)
Neuropsychology of the Amnesic Syndromes.
 Lawrence Erlbaum Associates. Parkin, A. (1996)
Memory and Amnesia. Psychology Press.

Referee roles for a number of grant giving bodies, including -
MRC, Wellcome Trust, NHS R & D Programme

Examining & Supervising Roles

I have had an advisory role for two PhD theses in the university of Southampton. I have been external Examiner for a PhD thesis, University of Manchester, 1994, and University of Macquarie, Australia (2003). Formal supervisor of a PhD thesis, University of Southampton, 2001 (Jon Evans). Jointly supervised a PhD (2009) by Keith Jenkins with Professor Michael Kopelman, Professor of Neuropsychiatry, Kings-Guys-St Thomas' Medical School. Currently jointly supervising a PhD by Ms Bonnie Kate-Dewar, also with Professor Michael Kopelman. I have supervised around six successful theses for Doctorates in Clinical Psychology, relating to the courses at the University of Southampton and at the University of East Anglia. I am currently (2020) co-supervising a PhD student at UCL in the field of cross-cultural aspects of dementia, as well as two UCL doctoral trainee projects, one in TBI and the other in ageing.

Management Roles

I was Head of Neuropsychology at the Wessex Neurological Centre in Southampton and also Head of Neuropsychology at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge. This involved a wide range of management roles, including membership of the Division of Neurosciences, and membership of the Division of Psychological Medicine. I oversaw a number of service development plans, including the epilepsy business plan where I helped to successfully set up the Epilepsy Surgery Service at Southampton General Hospital. I have been asked by managers in a number of Trusts to provide peer support to both senior and junior neuropsychologists, and I am currently providing support on both management and clinical issues to two senior neuropsychologists. My membership of the executive committee of the BPS Division of Neuropsychology has also given me experience in a number of management issues.

Other Roles

I am Psychology Advisor to the Confidential Reporting System in Surgery (CORESS) which meets quarterly at the Royal College of Surgeons to consider surgical patient safety incidents and lessons that can be learned. I was on the Advisory Panel for the National Guardian Office (NHS Whistleblowing Organization). I was an invited member of the commissioning panel for the Verita Independent Inquiry into the suicide of nurse Amin Abdullah, and also the subsequent NHS Improvement panel to draw up fairer HR procedures across the NHS.

5. OCCUPATIONAL RECORD

July 1971 - Sept 1971	Research Assistant, Neurosurgical Unit, Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast
Oct 1972 - Sept 1974	Honorary Psychologist, Neurosurgical Unit, Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast
Oct 1974 - Sept 1975	Psychologist, Neurosurgical Unit Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast
Oct 1975 - Sept 1976	Visiting Research Fellow, Psychology Service, Boston VA Hospital and Neurology Dept., Boston University Medical School
Nov 1976 - Aug 1977	Psychologist, Neurology Unit, Maudsley Hospital and Institute of Psychiatry
Sept 1977 - Nov 1977	Visiting Research Fellow, Boston VA Hospital
Dec 1977 - Dec 1978	Psychologist, Division of Psychiatry Northwick Park Hospital, Harrow. Also attached to Neurology and Neurosurgery Units, Central Middlesex Hospital
Jan 1979 - Feb 1980	Psychologist, Wolfson Medical Rehabilitation Centre, Atkinson Morley's Hospital
March 1980 - Feb 1984	Senior Clinical Psychologist, Wessex Neurological Centre, Southampton
March 1984 - Dec 1987	Principal Clinical Psychologist, Wessex Neurological Centre, Southampton
January 1988 - June 2003	Consultant Neuropsychologist, Head of Neuropsychology Department, Wessex Neurological Centre, Southampton (Grade B, with discretionary points)
January 1994 - March 1997	Honorary Senior Lecturer in Neuropsychology, University of Southampton
April 1997 - 2003	Honorary Professor of Neuropsychology, University of Southampton
July 2003 – December 2010	Consultant Neuropsychologist & Head of Neuropsychology Dept, Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge. Lead Neuropsychologist for Cambridge Memory Clinic, run jointly with Dr Peter Nestor, Dr Andrew Graham, Dr Jeremy Brown.

July 2003 – 2010	Visiting Scientist, MRC Cognition & Brain Sciences Unit, Cambridge. Honorary Consultant Neuropsychologist, Oliver Zangwill Centre for Neuropsychological Rehabilitation.
February – March 2013	Neuropsychologist, South Essex Partnership Trust
August 2013 – November 2013	Neuropsychologist, Leonard Cheshire Brain Injury Rehabilitation Unit, Manchester
November 2013 – September 2014	Consultant Neuropsychologist, Imperial College NHS Trust (Charing Cross Hospital)
November 2014 – May 2015	Consultant Neuropsychologist, School of Public Health, Imperial College Medical School
April 2013 –	Visiting Professor of Neuropsychology, University College London
Sept 2015 – Oct 2016	Consultant Neuropsychologist, St James' University Hospital, Leeds
June 2015 –	Honorary Consultant Neuropsychologist, Imperial College NHS Trust (St Mary's Hospital)
October 2018 – Sept 2019	Consultant Neuropsychologist, Elysium NeuroRehab Centre, Badby Park, Daventry, Northamptonshire.
March 2018 – March 2020	Visiting Consultant Neuropsychologist, Hurstwood Park/Sussex Neurosciences Centre, Princess Royal Hospital, Haywards Heath
April 2020 – March 2021	Locum Consultant Neuropsychologist, Brain Injury Rehabilitation Trust

Non-Academic Interests

I have written a book dealing with the links between India and Ireland, and part of this book formed the basis of a BBC documentary. [Kapur N. (1997) The Irish Raj: Illustrated Stories of Irish in India and Indians in Ireland. Antrim: Greystone Press]. I am a member of the Gandhi Foundation, and I have been involved in a number of charitable activities to raise funds to improve health care in India, including donating all my books' royalties to hospitals in India. I am a patron of the road safety charity RoadPeace, and I am a member of the Royal Meteorological Society.

8. MEDICO-LEGAL EXPERIENCE

I have over 40 years' experience in providing medicolegal reports, starting in 1980, with the ratio being roughly 50:50 for claimant and defence. I have experience in providing joint statements. I currently provide around 40 medicolegal reports a year.

I have had experience in both personal injury and clinical negligence cases, and have published an article on clinical negligence in the Medicolegal Journal. I started handling clinical negligence cases in 1980. I currently see 3-5 clinical negligence cases a year.

I have given evidence in the High Court on medicolegal cases, and have appeared around 5 times in court.

I have provided reports or given advice on reports for the General Medical Council and the National Clinical Assessment Service, and I have provided expert evidence in person at GMC hearings. I have also provided medicolegal reports for the British Transport Police.

I have written articles on malingering and designed a widely-used test in this field, the Coin-in-the Hand test (Kapur, 1994). I have given talks on cognitive effort to firms of solicitors.

I am a member of the Medico-Legal Society and of the Expert Witness Institute. I have participated in seminars and training courses run by both these organizations. I am also a member of a peer-support group that regularly discusses medicolegal topics to ensure that the reports we write are of the highest standard. I have purchased my own personal copy of Writing Medico-Legal Reports in Civil Claims (Second Edition) by Giles Eyre and Lynden Alexander.
